A MONIED FIGHT IN OHIO

As many of our readers are aware, Chas. W. Pegg, ex-Sheriff of this county, is the publisher of a newspaper at Batavia, Ohio, a little town near Cincinnati. It is called the Clermont Courier and in the last issue we find the following concerning the recent election in Ohio:

The result is very close, and whoever may have been elected has secured his preference by an exceedingly small majority. There is a rumor that Hoadly is elected. If this be true but one cause can have compassed such an effect—that is the Prohibition business, which has before this crippled the cause which it essayed to assist. Money has also been used by the Democrats in this canvass without stint. The liquor interest, which is ever the faithful ally of the Democracy, has been at work, and money in almost fabulous sums has been poured into Clermont and placed where it would secure the end and aim of the Democracy.

In the present aspect of affairs there is nothing to encourage anybody. Not the Democracy, for if they have been successful, their success has been secured not on principle, or by means of a superior number of bona fide members of their organization, but by reason of aid issues and factional strife in the ranks of those who have confronted them. So long as the Republican party attempts to carry upon its shoulders the fanatical prohibition element, that long will it be handicapped beyond the likelihood of successful effort.

The Courier then will not print this morning an exultant array of bristling head-lines. The cannon with which we had hoped to celebrate a glorious victory, is spiked with a prohibition cork. Not to say that the principle of temperance is not a good and sound one, or that the world would not be better without liquor, but no victory has been secured by the party that has adopted it as a fundamental plank. Evidently prohibition and politics are antagonistic elements.

As to the State, Hoadly and his crowd will probably take possession of the public offices by a weak consent of the people, which figuratively amounts to but a wink and a nod, and not to any thundering vociferous invitation. At best it is a consent under protest. It is to say had Republican managers managed rather than mismanaged you could not have entered.

The Democracy will about, of course; but so it goes. They have nothing really to exult over, since the result has not been secured by any excellence of Democracy, but rather by the blunders of the Republicans.

"A Nut For Pawning to Crack."

The Reveille calls upon the Reno Journal to explain the following existing state of things: "From the number of clerks employed in the several departments at Washington, to which each State is entitled to a number proportionate to its population, Nevada, with a population of about 62,000 would be entitled to at least 20, but so far as we know, there is not a single citizen of this State holding any clerkship at the National Capital. Whose fault is it, Jones's, Fair's or Cassidy's?"—Carson Tribune.

We don't know much about it, but are inclined to lay the blame on the Reveille's candidate for Senator. He was in Congress about the time the thing happened, and we have not heard of his putting any Nevada man in there. Now if this scrope had been elected he would have made a desperate effort to put in the State's quota, and might have succeeded in doubling the number.

SEND FOR DAGGETT.

At the meeting of the National Banker's Association at Louisville a few days ago, one of the first acts of the association was to pass the following resolution, after a protracted debate and the rejection of several amendments:

RESOLVED, That it is the sense of the American Bankers' Association that the compulsory coinage of the standard silver-dollar of 412½ grains is against the welfare of the nation, and that they recommend the discontinuance of such coinage only in such amounts as the demands of the country may require.

The Closing Reduction of Passenger Rates.

At Kansas City a meeting will be held in connection with the California lines. The meeting will be one of much importance, as probably the first-class passenger rate between Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco and Portland will be reduced to $95, the present rate from the Missouri river to San Francisco. If this rate is adopted, the reduction will be borne by lines west of the Missouri river.

LORD COLERIDGE.

A Tribute to America's Greatness and the Education of Her Middle Classes.

In concluding his speech at the New York banquet Lord Coleridge used these words: "As for your wealth, it was not your colossal fortunes that interested me. I can see great estates and sufficiently enormous fortunes at home. I should be disposed to give a wide berth to these things, because millions of dollars confuse my mind and are irrelevant to my tastes. But what I do rejoice to see; what has filled me with delight; what I have longed to see, but never will see in England, is the condition of your upper lower, and middle classes. I met highly educated men who would do credit to any capital diffused throughout the country, and what still is more delightful, I saw tens; of thousands of comfortable houses, all lived in by their owners. I am told that this possession of homes is pretty general; that your farmers generally own their farms, your gentlefolks their houses, and your artisans their cottages. The interest in them that results from being in their own homes is one that nothing else can give. Think what solid satisfaction and content this is in time of peace! This is your great glory, your real happiness! Let me entreat you to keep it, to guard it, never let it go. Don't be deluded by the splendor hallowed by discontent and misery where the feudal system prevails. I say this, because certain English periodicals are constantly advising you that you would be so much better off under a monarchy with an entail and the older patriarchal relations that we have found so pleasant in Ireland. [Applause.] I cannot help asking myself, whenever I read these things, where did these people go in America? What air did they breathe and with whom did they consort? Though I feel deeply the excellence of the American system, it must not be supposed for a moment that I am lost to that of my own country. Each is the complement of the other. Imitation in either case would be in my judgment a great mistake. It is the simple truth that joined together as allies, England and America would be absolutely irresistible in the world. [Applause.] I most earnestly hope that the present happy state of feeling will long continue. I assure you that there is not in any honest Englishman the trace of gouging when he thinks of the magnificence of your future. I hope no unscrupulous statesman, no malignant writer, on either side of the water will ever separate us." [Great applause.]

WASHINGTON NEXT WINTER. (Eureka Sentinel.)

A Washington dispatch says Mr. Blaine is not the only one in that city who has rented his house. The demand for furnished houses of the better kind by persons coming to Washington for the winter or longer is altogether beyond any previous experience. To supply it, house owners in considerable numbers are moving out to board. The rates are consequently beyond any former record, for the gain that there is in it furnishes the only motive for the operation.

No little curiosity exists concerning Mr. Blaine's rich tenant from Chicago, Mr. Leiter. Is the great house still to be the headquarters of the Plumed Knight, with the Knight away? Protest as earnestly and frequently as Blaine may, people still keep on talking about him as their favorite. His supporters have not yet transferred themselves to any one else. It is also to be noted how many of the stalwart followers, not to say leaders, in fact declare they are for Blaine before Arthur.

On the side of the Democrats there are to be similar movements. The headquarters of the McDonald influence are to be set up and maintained on a scale equal to the occasion. That gentleman did a considerable business last winter on a modest scale by leasing rooms at Willard's.

But the greatest of all will be the entertainments designed to advance Arthur for the nomination. The White House is being put in unexampled condition for unexampled displays, dinners, receptions, and things public and private, to set the ball in motion and keep it going. Few men can match Arthur for setting in motion this sort of machinery and keeping it up. Life at the White House is the shining feature of Arthur's period, the conspicuous thing in his Administration. It won hearts for the President last winter and will be tried on a much larger scale this.

While there will be plenty of gaiety and fashion in Washington society the coming winter, and as long as Congress is in session, there will be a strong undertow of purpose, growing out of the fact that it will be the Presidential year.

The JOURNAL gave the Appeal all the credit necessary in republishing of its article on Decorative Art. The JOURNAL is more liberal and just with its credits to its exchanges than many are in return.

Captain Matt Canavan has returned to San Francisco. He still retains his residence in Nevada, and is being strongly urged to run for Congress on the Democratic ticket next Fall. —Carson Tribune.

MORMON CONSPIRACY.

Governor Murray of Utah, has just sent a report to the Secretary of the Interior. He says there has long existed in Utah a combination to nullify the laws of Congress. This conspiracy led to open rebellion at one time, and continues to evade and defeat the plain will of Congress, and he urges that the Act of Congress of '62, dealing with its affairs, meet not only spiritual but temporal assistance. He calls attention also, to the violation of the Act of '62, which declares it unlawful for any corporation or association for religious or charitable purposes to acquire or hold real estate of greater value than $50,000, within any city in any Territory. The Mormon Church, according to the latest census, possessed property within one county to the amount of $2,500,000. He says it is impossible to estimate the amount of property held by the church in other counties. He says he also finds that, notwithstanding the law of '62 forbidding bigamy, it continues to be openly taught and practiced. He recommends that the United States military be made available, and that it be made lawful for United States soldiers to be used for the execution of processes out of the Courts of the United States, in the hands of the United States Marshal, and that their services under proper restrictions, in case of riot, insurrection, domestic violence, and for the preservation of the peace, be made more readily effective than under the present law. He says independent of every Act of Congress relating to the Territory of Utah, the ecclesiastical government exists there to-day, has existed 30 years, and is intended to provide temporal laws. As a remedy for this condition of affairs, he asks that if the Legislature elected under the Edmunds law, fail to repeal all laws passed by the former Legislature, by which the laws of Congress have been nullified, and fail to pass laws forbidding polygamy, and fail to recognize the sovereign authority of the United States, then Congress shall repeal that section of the organic Act establishing such a body, and assume control in the government of the Territory.

An Interesting Report.

WASHINGTON, October 15.

The report of Railroad Commissioner Armstrong was transmitted to the Secretary of the Interior to-day. Particular attention is called to the decision of Controller Lawrence in relation to withholding payment for transportation by goods which have not been subsidized with bonds. He reports that the railroads coming within the jurisdiction of the bureau are well maintained, and while traffic is steadily increasing, rates charged are gradually decreasing. The total indebtedness of the several subsidized Pacific roads to the United States June 30, 1883, is as follows: Union Pacific, including Kansas Pacific, $64,026,085; Central Pacific, including Western Pacific, $52,976,448; Sioux City Pacific, $3,092,617; Great Branch Union Pacific, $3,149,808; total, $123,845,055. Total credit on account of transportation services performed and money paid treasury, as follows: Union Pacific, $13,585,040; Central Pacific, $7,053,813; Sioux City and Pacific, $21,355; Central Branch Union Pacific, $159,084; total, $21,469,292. Balance in favor of United States but not due until maturity of principal in year 1895, $991,237,312. The report shows the Central Pacific has in the treasury to the credit of the sinking fund, $2,404,015, and the Union Pacific, $1,632,687. The report regards the sinking fund as a failure, on account of the lack of suitable investments. The Commissioner recommended the appointment of a commissioner to investigate and report to Congress on all questions relating to the establishment of transportation rates over or upon railroads in the United States so far as they relate to inter-state commerce.

Butler Accepts.

Boston, October 16.

Governor Butler has written a letter accepting the nomination for Governor of the National Greenback Labor party of Massachusetts. Its action, he says, affords him much pleasure as a mark of appreciation of his labors in behalf of the greenback and laboring men. The greenback, he says, has become absolutely the currency of the United States. In the several different forms in which the Government issues its money, every silver and gold certificate and every postal note, is essentially a greenback, that is, paper currency based on the guarantee of the nation's good faith and truth. Gold and silver is, he thinks, uselessly piled up in the vaults of the Treasury, but if that was taken away, still the note of the United States would be just as good. Upon that question, the Greenbackers have won their fight after a long struggle, commencing in obloquy and ending in victory. The party still has a higher and nobler mission before it: That of establishing relations between labor and capital, which shall be just as profitable to both, of restraining lawful monopolies, such as the transportation of freight, and passengers. Organizations under the forms of law which give undue advantages by which rich men are made richer, and poor men poorer, ought to be sternly dealt with.

Couldn't Afford It.

Made Honest by Business Principles a Druggist Tells the Square Truth.

"Now, my friend, let's be perfectly frank and candid about this little matter," the druggist said, placing his elbows on his plated showcase and looking his customer fairly in the eye. You have a lame back and want a plaster to put on it. You don't know me, and, judging of human nature as it runs in business, you are afraid I'll humbug you in some way. You may think it an odd statement, but I can't afford to cheat you. Even if I did I haven't the means. "That's curious. (Oh, my back! I'll take a chair, I guess. Don't you keep plaster?)"

"Oh, yes, one or two kinds. Once I had shelves full of them—every sort that were ever invented to gull the ignorant and make money for imitators. But I sifted 'em out one by one and now sell BENSON'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTER principally. They always give satisfaction, and in the end it pays me to sell them in preference to all others."

"Haven't you Allcock's?"

"Yes, but my customers and myself prefer Benson's Capsine—which are quick as electricity, safe as Government bonds and sure as the law of gravitation. The doctors order them, and what is more to the point, I never have heard a complaint from any one who has used them. You can go elsewhere—if your back will bear you out in the operation—and get another and a cheaper plaster, but—"

"Don't talk to me about the money," broke in the comfort-seeking stranger, with some heat. "What's ten or fifteen cents to getting rid of this confounded—oh, Lordy!—this pain and lameness? Let me have one of Benson's Capsine."

That's the real article, is it? With the word CAPSINE cut in the body of the plaster.

"You'll be around in a week, straight and strong," added the diplomatic druggist, throwing the money in his cash drawer.

The party of Battle Mountain duck-shooters, of whom mention was made yesterday, have anchored their car at Brown's Station on the Humboldt lake, and are having any amount of fun, but they say the shooting would be much more interesting if the game was not quite so stupid and less plentiful.

M. C. Lake was quite unwell yesterday. Most any other man would have thought himself sick enough to keep his bed, but Lake was around all day attending to business. He is troubled with a difficulty in breathing. Friends advise him to visit a mineral spring near Marker & Merrill's property at Eagle Lake, which is said to possess wonderful rejuvenating properties. The peculiar medicinal virtues of this new spring, though known to the Indians from time immemorial, is of recent discovery by the whites.

A Leading Firm's Proclamation.

Osborn & Shoemaker's new advertisement appears elsewhere, and should be read and remembered. This well known and popular firm have a splendid stock of drugs and medicines, toilet and fancy articles, perfumery, picture and cornice moldings, medicinal wines and liquors, etc., and having facilities for buying at first hands to an extent not surpassed by any house in the State, can and do give the public the benefit of first-class goods at extremely reasonable prices. They have lately doubled the capacity of their establishment and even now have barely room to properly display their wares, having fully as many articles down in their cellar as they have in the store. When either of the proprietors is too busy to wait on a customer Harry Merritt will be found on deck, and he is as affable and competent as either of the "bosses," so that customers can always be certain of courteous treatment. If you are in want of any article in their line Osborn & Shoemaker will be pleased to supply it.

More Prisoners.

Sheriff L. L. Rickard, of Humboldt county, Monday took to Carson and conveyed to the State Prison William Stapely and Frank Gitze. These men were tramping across the State to California, and broke into a freight car, from which they stole some overcoats and other wearing apparel. They were arrested near Lovelock and held to answer. The Grand Jury indicted them for grand larceny, they pleaded guilty to the charge, and were sent to State Prison for a year each.

The Jury Separates.

The U. S. Grand Jury is in session—that is to say, it was not discharged for the term last Friday, but was permitted by the Court to separate. It is to the call of the Foreman. It is hinted by some outsiders that there will be an investigation into the timber trespasses which are so frequent and extensive in Western and Southern Nevada.

Abrahams Bros., announce in today's JOURNAL the receipt of an immense stock of Fall and Winter clothing, which will be spoken of more in detail in a few days.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

State Superintendent Young Appoints Time and Place.

The following from State Superintendent C. S. Young was received yesterday morning with the request that it be published:

The annual State Teachers' Institute will hold the session of 1883, at Reno, Nevada, commencing December 27, and continuing four days. Prominent educators of Nevada and California will be present to discuss educational topics of interest to the teachers, patrons and other friends of our public school system. Among live educators everywhere, and especially in conventions of teachers held in our sister States, the so-called "new education" and the improved methods of teaching, are just now receiving marked attention. This agitation is said to be doing much good; and whatever of good there may be in these discussions of how to train the mind to think and act, should be eagerly sought for by every educator who would grow in efficiency, and in popular favor. The people do not lightly appreciate any sacrifice, on the part of a public servant, made in the interest of themselves or their children. As among all craftsmen in their work, so among teachers in their profession, there should be a oneness of aim and a systematic effort. In a country like ours, it is an opinion that through conventions of intelligent representatives, the good of the whole people is best promoted. The State provides for an annual institute, and the State Board of Education recommends that a session be held this year. Hence, it is earnestly hoped that, in the efforts to advance the cause of education, through institute work, the State will receive the hearty co-operation of all the County Superintendents of schools, school trustees, teachers, and the public generally.

C. S. YOUNG,
Supt. Public Instruction,
COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT ALLEN CONCURS.

Believing the best interests of the teachers of the county and the public will be served by holding the county Teachers' Institute in connection with the State Teachers' Institute, and having made arrangements therefor, the institutes will be held jointly at the Union school house in Reno, commencing December 27, 1883, at 10 o'clock A. M.

D. ALLEN,
County Superintendent of Public Schools, Washoe County.
Reno, October 16.

Paradise Mines

"Big Nick" Freyer is in Winnemucca from the Paradise mines, and he gives glowing accounts of their appearance, especially the Wild Goose. He says they have an immense body of ore in that mine, extending from the surface to the lowest depth yet attained—about 175 feet. On the Live Yankee they have run a drift and upraise for ventilation, and are now prepared to run on the level and take out ore.

Lost in a Storm.

A. M. Ward, of the firm of Ward Bros., while hunting stock in Granite Mountain a few days ago, was caught in a blinding snow storm on the mountain and came near perishing before he made his way out. Snow fell to the depth of two feet in a few hours. The mountain is full of stock and it is feared that much of it will perish before it can be found and driven out.

A Royal Machine.

Osborn & Shoemaker have just received from the manufacturers a lot of the "Royal St. John" sewing machine, for which they are the sole agents for Western Nevada. These machines are first-class in every respect, handsomely made, and cheaper than any other kind in the market.

It is learned from a reliable source at Washington that in the Pension Office there are employed 1,500 clerks. Of these clerkships each State is supposed to have its proportion, based on its population. Nevada on this basis is entitled to at least six or eight, but has not a single appointee in the entire number. Who is responsible for this, Jones or Cassidy?—Lyon County Times.

The truth is that Major Wasson, Frank Mercer, and two or three other Nevada boys are holding Government positions at the National Capital, and if the State is entitled to more, if any needy applicant will walk there and knock hard at the door we guess the Senator will see that he gets it.

Fine Job Work.

The JOURNAL job office has just received a large and fine stock of paper, cards, inks, etc., for job printing and is prepared to take orders for every description of work in the printing line. Only skilled workmen are employed in the job room and no inferior work is allowed to leave the office. Compensation prices are charged for every job and satisfaction guaranteed. Call and examine our specimens and leave your orders.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has cured me of the Inflammatory Rheumatism, after being troubled with the disease for eight years.

OUR PROGRESS.

As stages are quickly abandoned with the completion of railroads, so the huge, drastic, cathartic pills, composed of crude and bulky medicines, are quickly abandoned with the introduction of Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," which are sugar coated, and little larger than mustard seeds, but composed of highly concentrated vegetable extracts. By druggists.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. Feb. 21-awf-lyr

IT LEADS ALL.

No other blood-purifying medicine is made, or has ever been prepared, which so completely meets the wants of physicians and the general public as

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

It leads the list as a truly scientific preparation for all blood diseases. If there is a lurking taint of Scrofula about you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA will purge it out and expel it from your system. For constitutional or scrofulous Catarrh, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is the true remedy. It has cured numerous cases. It will stop the nauseous catarrhal discharge, and remove the sickening odor of the breath, which are indications of scrofulous origin.

"Hutto, Tex., Sept. 26, 1882.
"At the age of two years one of my children was terribly afflicted with ulcerous running sores on its face and neck. At the same time its eyes were swollen, much inflamed, and very sore. Physicians told us that a powerful and cruel alternative medicine must be employed. They united in recommending AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. A few doses produced a perceptible improvement, which, by an adherence to your directions, was continued to a complete and permanent cure. No evidence has since appeared of the existence of any scrofulous tendencies; and no treatment of any disorder was ever attended by more prompt or effectual results.
Yours truly, B. F. JOHNSON."
